Course Description
This course will critically analyze resistance movements that have centered on issues impacting queers, involving queer folx or using queer approaches by introducing and using foundational concepts from queer theory, crip theory and a queered version of complex systems science. Intersectional resistance and queer resistance strategies developed and practiced by Anti-racist, Trans and Queer Activists and Scholars will be highlighted through case studies.

anti-prison resistance climate change and sustainability
MIGRATION
colonialism and decolonization

ACT UP!
QPOC anti-state violence organizing anti-facism
feminist crip resistance

Anti-corporate pride resistance pinkwashing and resistance in Palestine indigenous recovery and regeneration of multi-spiritedness

Instructors: América Martinez, amm001@ucsd.edu & brad werner, bwerner@ucsd.edu